Executive Summary

This is an alternative to program 72011 Health Promotion. Health Promotions (HP) provides prevention/intervention opportunities, education and encouragement to contribute to a healthier workforce, reduce employee absenteeism & health plan costs, and increase employee productivity. The focus is on general wellness including nutrition, weight control, fitness and stress management.

Program Description

Program provides broad range services directly to employees to improve/enhance wellness including: access to commercial-grade fitness equipment at 5 worksites; locker/shower facilities; on-site fitness classes tailored to work schedules (costs for classes below market rate fees, shared by participants); personal development workshops targeting stress management and work-life balance; wellness information and community activities/resources provided regularly in monthly benefits newsletter/broadcast emails; library with books, videos, brochures on broad range of topics; breast pump loan program; incentive programs for weight loss, smoking cessation and work-site wellness activities; staff services for volunteer Peer Support Network; coordinate/facilitate individual and department EAP usage; development/trainer for County drug and alcohol training; coordination of ad-hoc projects supporting program goals (ie Get Active:Commute Smart program). Coordinates health fair with multiple vendors participating.

Program Justification

Encouraging employees to make healthy life choices enhances their commitment to the County, community, productivity, retention and helps attract the kinds of employees needed to provide County services. Stressful work environments are offset by the availability of stress management and physical exercise opportunities offered via HP. Industry studies document the positive impact wellness programs have on health & disability plan costs, and the relationship between wellness offerings and employee productivity. Investment in employee wellness contributes to better, more cost effective service to the community.

Offering worksite wellness programs/initiatives demonstrates the County's commitment to support employees and helps to attract and retain a highly qualified workforce.
