Executive Summary

This offer is for 57 open hours per week, the current level of service; it would be purchased in conjunction with the base offer. This program offer links to the Vibrant Community factors "valued and engaged citizens" and "opportunities for improving and enjoying life."

Program Description

Maintaining the current level of service (57 weekly open hours) would allow Central Library to offer the following services and programs in addition to the base: 4 more hours per week of access to Central's books and other items; more childhood literacy activities (including school visits, storytimes, programs for parents and caregivers); forums such as the September 11 Project; cultural, educational and recreational opportunities such as Zinesters Talking; exhibits such as "Shipyards Workers of WWII: Labor & Art" and services like Homework Helpers. This current service level also offers more computer classes and Internet access to the "technology poor."

Program Justification

This program offer links to Factor 2, Valued & Engaged Citizens. In particular, this offer responds to the request to "provide places and promote opportunities for neighbors to connect" by adding 74 public programs to the base offer. About 20,000 more people can visit Central Library during the year.

This program offer links directly to Factor 3, Opportunities for Improving & Enjoying Life. In particular, this offer responds to the request to "provide opportunities & resources for lifelong learning" by making Central Library's books and other items available more hours, offering 15,300 more hours of computer use (for a total of 162,916 hours), and answering about 25,000 additional information queries.

Maintaining current hours of service is critical during a year when voters are being asked to renew the levy, as they need to perceive that Multnomah County Library is keeping its promise during the current levy.
