Executive Summary

Multnomah County Commission on Children, Families and Community (CCFC) Administration provides leadership, management, grants accounting, and administrative support. The CCFC is both the local Children and Families Commission and the Community Action Board. The CCFC is responsible for promoting activities that lead to improved outcomes for children, youth and families, and for poverty reduction.

Program Description

CCFC Administration ensures that the unit fulfills its obligations as the local Children and Families Commission and the Community Action board. Duties include: (a) staffing the volunteer CCFC Board of approximately 25 volunteer community members, (b) allocating and managing funding resources, (b) overseeing development of the six-year Community Plan, (c) advancing three of the County's policy frameworks (Early Childhood, School Age Policy and Poverty Elimination), (d) promoting positive youth development, and (e) monitoring and evaluating CCFC-funded services and supports.

Program Justification

The CCFC Administration aligns with the Accountability Priority in the following ways:

- a) Providing opportunities for the community to participate in and understand how County government works, through the CCFC board.
- b) Providing opportunities for interaction between community members, County staff and County leadership, in the areas children, youth, families and people living on a low-income. This interaction increases knowledge of how the process of local government works, including budget development. The CCFC board develops shared goals and visions in partnership with County employees and leadership.

Legal/Contractual Obligation

The Community Action Board is a federal designation (as specified by Oregon Revised Statutes), dating from 1964.

The Commission on Children and Families system (a state agency with local commissions) was created by HB 2004, through Children's Care Team legislation, in 1993. The HB 2004 required each County, through its Board of County Commissioners, to create a local children and families commission.

In 1998, through Ordinance No. 921, the Board of County Commissioners joined the two entities together, and created the Multnomah County Commission on Children, Families and Community, to provide a coordinated focus on children, youth and families, with anti-poverty efforts.
