Executive Summary

The High Risk Drug Unit (HRDU) is an important public safety program designed to reduce drug use, increase treatment success and prevent further arrests for drug-related activities for more than 480 high risk drug addicted adult offenders each year. HRDU involves offenders in substance abuse treatment while actively supervising and managing the offender's criminal behavior through collaboration with law enforcement, community partners and treatment providers. About 7 out of 10 offenders supervised by this unit did not recidivate in a three year period following their convictions.

Program Description

This program works closely with community partners to engage offenders in substance abuse treatment. HRDU realizes that in addition to holding offenders accountable for their actions, service coordination and collaboration among community agencies and law enforcement are necessary to help the offender change addictive criminal behaviors.

HRDU supervises offenders released from state prisons, specifically those released from the SUMMIT Boot Camp program, and ensures the offenders receive aftercare and related services in the community to maintain their abstinence. Parole/Probations Officers from this unit also work with chronic offenders in the downtown area and those offenders transitioning from prison-based residential treatment to community-based outpatient treatment.

Research shows punishment alone is unlikely to change behavior, but consequences combined with alcohol and drug abuse treatment reduce the number of new crimes committed (Andrews 1994). HRDU supports public safety by targeting high risk drug offenders and holding them accountable through active community supervision and the use of evidence-based services designed to change behavior.
