Executive Summary

MCSO Corrections Counselors provide services to pretrial inmates and sentenced offenders to enhance a safe and secure environment in the jails and to ensure compliance with statutory mandates. Counselor services include, but are not limited to assessment, case management, transition services, individual counseling, group programming, education, mental health, and re-entry services (through linkage with alcohol/drug, mental health, housing, employment and other providers in the community).

Program Description

Corrections Counselor's provide services to stabilize, effectively manage, and positively impact pretrial inmates and sentenced offenders. These services satisfy constitutional and statutory requirements, as well as assist inmates with their progression through the jail(most secure to least secure bed) and successful re-entry into the community.

Counselors assess needs and risk, placing those appropriate into work crews or community beds that address alcohol/drug, housing, mental health and other chronic needs. Counselors provide group programming, resource information and referral service, which by the development of community partnerships, link sentenced offenders to various community services to assist them in addressing their needs and issues. Counselors serve as liaisons between the inmates and jail staff (i.e. security, medical, records, auxiliary services, etc.) and outside individuals such as family, employers, attorneys, probation/parole officers, the court, and various social service providers. Counselors engage in individual counseling with inmates to reduce level of anxiety typical to those confined and to equip them with skills to successfully manage their behavior, thereby diffusing escalating behavior, especially for those suffering from serious mental health related issues.

Corrections Counselors provide services not only enhance opportunity for successful re-entry, they assist in providing a safe and humane housing environment for those confined and maximize the efficient and effective use of jail beds.
