Performance Measure - Description

 Measure Changed

Calls for service is a measure of the phone calls we receive from the public requesting service in the community. In FY12 we anticipated an increase in calls for service concerning neighborhood cat nuisance problems. However, we have received only a modest increase, and estimate no significant change in FY13. Priority Investigation Response Time measures the time it takes to make initial contact on reported cases of animal cruelty and animal bites. A new performance measure is the number of Notices of Infraction issued. This is a workload measure of enforcement activity. The previous measure of Emergency Response Time has been eliminated due to changes in our data collection software.
