Executive Summary

Energy Services (ES) ensures that approximately 10,000 fixed and low-income households have financial assistance to help meet their energy costs, avoiding shutoff and potential loss of housing.

Direct utility payments to income eligible households, along with energy education, case management, and other services help households manage and pay for their energy costs. Services prevent utility shutoff for vulnerable households. Services are primarily tax and rate payer funded by the state and federal government.

Program Description

Energy bill payment assistance works through nine community agencies to make utility payments for fixed and low-income households. In FY 10-11 more than 70,000 households were income eligible for service; of those, 17,383 were served.

Services are delivered through the SUN Service System (SUNSS) Anti-Poverty System, a countywide integrated and coordinated system of care for school-age youth and their families.

Energy Education helps fixed and low-income households understand their energy use and provides the necessary tools - such as light bulbs, window stripping and showerheads - to better control energy expenses. All households receiving Energy Services receive education on how to reduce energy costs.

Energy services contribute to reducing the number of households living in poverty by increasing household self-sufficiency and improving local economic conditions through energy conservation. Energy costs disproportionately affect low-income households. The Department of Energy (DOE) estimates low-income households pay an average of 12.6% of their income for energy expenses compared with 2.7% for the average household. In some fixed income households, energy costs can reach as high as 35% of total monthly expenses.
