Executive Summary

DCHS supports the continuation of the county-wide and regional work of the Health System Transformation Project Manager through funding of $109,090 for FY14. This is a key position, working to organize and effectively advocate for Multnomah County interests with coordinated care organizations and regional government partners.

Program Description

The evolution of health system transformation and its impact on county services and budget has benefited from having an individual charged with creating strategy and overseeing the county's response to a dynamic and fast-moving process.

The position is responsible for streamlining communication across the county, leading teams to troubleshoot operational and IT issues, forecasting and providing a framework for assessing likely risks, and general problem solving. The project manager works closely with county leadership, and led the process with county counsel to create and negotiate legally binding agreements with Health Share Oregon, the region's largest coordinated care organization, and DCHS' Mental Health and Long-term Care services.

Working across boundaries, the project manager facilitates Steering Committee and operational meetings to ensure that staff representing county leadership, DCHS, Health Dept., IT, county counsel and government affairs are actively engaged and up-to-date on the latest developments.

The next phase of work requires the continuation of this project management function to coordinate services and communication, monitor the Health Commons Grant requirements, review proposed legislation and meet other key milestones. As health system transformation becomes operational, integrating primary care, behavioral healthcare and addictions treatment, the work increases in complexity and creates new challenges for analysis and implementation.
