Executive Summary

Many individuals who commit property crimes are also addicted to alcohol or drugs. In an attempt to decrease additional felony convictions and hold people accountable both the State Department of Corrections and the Oregon Criminal Justice Commission invested monies into comprehensive programming for this population. DCJ has received funding for the Recidivism Addiction Intervention Network (RAIN) and the Success Through Accountability, Restitution and Treatment (START) court. These programs were funded through the passage of Measure 57 during 2008 which had limited monies dedicated to alcohol and drug treatment. Both of these programs are multi-disciplinary in nature and the monies have been divided between a variety of stakeholders.

Program Description

Both the RAIN and START programs require stringent drug testing, supervision and case management services through Parole/Probation Officers (PPO), funding for jail beds or jail transition services, and alcohol and drug treatment.

There are specific criteria for selection to each program. The funding agencies conduct evaluations of each program and report back to the legislature on the results.

The RAIN program has a staff member from a drug treatment program housed at the DCJ office and there is treatment on demand. PPOs work closely with jail counselors so that offenders sanctioned to jail have program expectations reinforced. DCJ and treatment staff members co-facilitate aftercare groups and individual "check-ups" at the office, even after formal treatment ends. Capacity is 100 offenders per year.

The START Drug Court integrates outpatient treatment with frequent judicial and probation interactions. START imposes swift and sure consequences for program violations, and uses incentives for positive changes. START is a collaborative program between the Courts, MCSO, Metropolitan Public Defenders, District Attorney's Office, Volunteers of America and DCJ. Capacity is 200 offenders per year.
