Executive Summary

Family Court Services' Safety First Program helps keep victims of domestic violence and their children safe by providing supervised parenting time and safe exchange services to families impacted by domestic violence. The Safe Havens Supervised Parenting Time and Safe Exchange Program serves approximately 100 families per year. The Office of Violence against Women (OVW) provides funds to support direct supervision and staff training.

Program Description

FCS Safety First Program provides supervised visitation and safe exchange services to at least 100 families a year in the tri-county area. Safety First provides a safe place for victims of domestic violence to accommodate children's visits with an offending parent when such has been ordered. The Safe Havens Program accepts community and court referrals and provides free and/or low cost monitored parenting time and safe exchanges for children and families experiencing domestic violence.

Multnomah and neighboring counties have experienced significant incidences of domestic violence homicides involving both victims and children in recent years. Research identifies the period in which a victim leaves a violent relationship as the highest risk period for increased violence or homicide. Research shows that witnessing domestic violence contributes to children demonstrating depression, aggression, anxiety, and school problems. Older child witnesses are more apt to tolerate violence and be involved in violent relationships. In addition, child abuse and domestic violence co-occur at an overall rate of at least 40%, making children in these families doubly at risk.

The presence of a safe visitation and exchange program in the tri-county area is a critical component of the continuum of services in place in the community to protect victims of domestic violence and interrupt the cycle of children's exposure to violence.
