Executive Summary

This program offer is for the 13 neighborhood libraries: Albina, Capitol Hill, Fairview-Columbia, Gregory Heights, Holgate, Kenton, North Portland, Northwest, Rockwood, St. Johns, Sellwood-Moreland, Troutdale and Woodstock libraries. Last year, residents visited neighborhood libraries over 2.3 million times and benefited from diverse learning, cultural, and recreational opportunities.

Program Description

Neighborhood libraries serve as community facilities where residents can attend classes, programs and community forums that provide opportunities for neighbors to interact. County residents have access 7 days a week, including some evenings, to a collection of 635,811 books. This includes 50,000 ebooks, as well as print materials, and items in Spanish, Vietnamese, Chinese and Russian. In the past year, ebook check out increased 183%. Children and young people participate in storytimes, Summer Reading, and after-school activities (peak hours for juvenile crime). Residents develop critical life skills through job training resources, book groups, civic engagement, and other library programs. Libraries help bridge the digital divide by providing free Internet access and free basic computer classes to those without computers or Internet connection. Language learning and educational programs and access to citizenship classes improve employment opportunities and quality of life for residents with low English proficiency and limited resources.

The neighborhood libraries offer a variety of programs that provide opportunities for neighbors to interact. Dedicated volunteers from youth to seniors contribute over 33,000 hours of service each year, and over 900 groups use free library space for community meetings. In addition, libraries serve as a bridge for the diverse cultures within Multnomah County. Residents who are non-English speakers enjoy over 1400 bilingual programs and events each year. Neighborhood libraries provide opportunities and resources for lifelong learning by providing free access to computers and high-speed wireless Internet. The 244 public computers with Internet access and patrons' personal devices are used for nearly 700,000 Internet and wi-fi sessions, and more than 850 free computer classes and labs help attendees develop life and job skills. Research indicates that youth participation in summer reading programs results in improved reading skills and enhances all other learning. Over 110,000 children participated in the 2012 Summer Reading program across the library system, and 117,557 people attended youth programs at neighborhood libraries last year.
